

WITH A KNIFE

Earl Kitchen Receives Serious Injuries In Bloody Encounter.

Knife Penetrates His Lungs—One Stab Very Near The Heart.

Earl Kitchen lies at his home on West Third street in a critical condition as the result of knife wounds received late last night.

The wounded man refused to give the name of his assailant or state the manner in which the fight began, and the particulars of the case were hard to get.

It is understood, however, that at the closing time, eleven o'clock, last night Kitchen was in Kelly's saloon on First street and was told to go out, that it was closing time. He walked out toward the curb and toward one Charles Shawning, who was leaning upon a sign board that stands next to the curb on the sidewalk, and made some remark about killing Shawning.

Shawning is reported to have said that he guessed he wouldn't, whereupon it is alleged that Kitchen struck at Shawning with a knife and it is said inflicted a wound upon the latter's face.

At this juncture Shawning drew a knife from his pocket and for a moment a fierce and ugly battle ensued, and Kitchen receiving a wound upon the face and a stab below the heart was brought to the realization of the danger he was in and started to run, Shawning pursuing him and stabbing him several times as he ran.

The cutting was done so quickly and quietly that a crowd standing at the corner near the Sullivan saloon did not know anything about it until it was all over. No one could be found who will say that he saw the entire fight.

After the cutting Kitchen went to the office of Dr. D. D. VanOsdol where his wounds were dressed temporarily and accompanied by three men, the names of whom could not be learned, Kitchen went to his home.

Dr. VanOsdol then went to the home where a closer examination of the wounds was made and not being fully satisfied the doctor called Dr. Sexton in consultation to ascertain whether or not the knife had penetrated the stomach. The doctors were not of the opinion that the stomach was penetrated.

Kitchen received five wounds—two stabs in the back, one penetrating the lungs, one stab in the head, which was sewed up, requiring several stitches, the stab in the breast just below the heart and a slash across the cheek.

The two serious wounds are the one over the stomach and the one penetrating the lungs. The doctors are hopeful today, however, and should no complications, such as blood poisoning or pneumonia set in, think the patient will recover. The air from the wound which penetrates the lungs gets under the skin and causes his back and neck to be in a puffy condition.

Kitchen refuses to give any information simply saying it was a friend who hurt him. Marshal Pearsey had an interview with the wounded man but it is understood got nothing from that source. Kitchen is said to have remarked that he would have escaped had he been a better runner.

Marshal Pearsey swore out a warrant for the arrest of Shawning and he was arrested by Officer Gordon about noon at the home of his parents and brought before Mayor Stevens where he was remanded to jail to await developments in the condition of Kitchen, the mayor contending that he could not fix the bond until he knew something of the gravity of the crime.

Kitchen is a well known young man and has lived in Rushville all his life. Shawning is a young man, not yet of age, whose parents live near this city and who bears a good reputation. He worked at the livery barn of Hiner & Davis until a week or so ago.

Shawning said to a representative of the Republican this afternoon that he and Kitchen had always been the best of friends and that he asked Kitchen for a cigarette paper and some tobacco. Kitchen not being able to find his tobacco accused Shawning of stealing it and said he would kill him, whereupon he drew a knife and started for him. Shawning has a cut on his thumb and was struck in the face. He says he was not wanting to fight and was simply standing there waiting for a friend, and that he fought in self defense.

Off For The Philippines.

Miss Rose Lillie, a Connersville young woman, who for many years has had charge as night operator at the Central Union Telephone exchange, has left for San Francisco and from there will sail for the Philippine Islands, where she will be married to Capt. Charles Smith, a member of the constabulary at Manila.

Miss Lillie met her fiancé at Columbus, Ind., several years ago, but has not seen him since he went to the Philippines four years ago. The courtship has been almost entirely by correspondence, and because the bridegroom could not come for his bride she undertook the journey alone.

1:40 Convention makes temporary officers of convention permanent.

2:10 Convention accepts invitation of World's fair to attend as guests.

2:13 Adjourned until Wednesday noon.

WRECK ON BIG 4

Rails Spread Near Markleville and Train Was Ditched.

North bound Big Four freight train number 63 was wrecked last night at Markleville forcing all trains on that road to go by the way of Shirley and Indianapolis today.

The wreck was caused by the spreading of rails and the track was torn up for several hundred feet.

Six cars were overturned and a number of others off the track and it will take several hours yet to clear the track. Traffic over that part of the road will probably not be resumed until late tonight.

Train number one was annulled and south bound train number 33 was several hours late on account of the wreck.

RUSH COUNTY'S CHOICE.

Miss Alma Odear of This City to Go to World's Fair.

Miss Alma Odear, of this city, was chosen as Rush county's representative in the party of 150 women to be sent to the World's fair by the Commercial Tribune, having received 7359 votes to 6792 for Miss Tonyes, of Milroy.

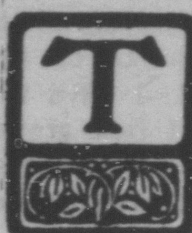

Everyone is congratulating Miss Odear on her good fortune and wishing her a pleasant trip, which it will no doubt be. They will leave Cincinnati on July 12th and will stay at the Inside Inn during their sojourn at St. Louis.

In speaking of the contest the Commercial says:

It is a matter of sincerest pride and gratification to The Commercial Tribune that it will be the means of throwing open the gates of the St. Louis Fair to 150 women—the very flower of true and charming and intelligent womanhood of the three great States of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana. They will not only see all that is to be seen, but see it intelligently and with the fullest appreciation of the invaluable lessons to be learned from inspection of the wonders which the world can produce, but which the world could only display when the invitation came from the United States Government.

Too Much Training Spoils the Child

By Professor E. H. GRIGGS, Formerly of Leland Stanford, Jr., University

HERE is danger in too much government. Ministers of the gospel feel, perhaps too strongly, the need for their families to be moral exemplars and seek to inculcate so many moral principles in their children that THERE IS A REACTION. They have more opportunity to be with their families and are affected constantly by the desire to conduct a model household.

There is a proverb which is not true that all preachers' sons turn out badly, but I believe it is true that the deplorably frequent instances of sons of ministers who fail to live exemplary lives may be traced to the OVERZEALOUSNESS OF THEIR PARENTS, who cannot keep their hands off, as it were, when it is best to let the children alone.

The other extreme is also to be avoided. I think it was a Chicago child who ran to her mother one day and complained, with tears in her eyes, that "that man who sits on our front porch Sunday mornings spanked me."

GROWS WORSE

Condition of Milroy Bank Is Not Encouraging.

The condition at Milroy today has not changed much and no one knows what the outcome will be. A number of Rushville men, who are interested in the bank, went to Milroy today, among them being John D. Megee, who has just returned from a trip through the southwest and who was Mr. Allison's attorney.

It is whispered today that the two ten-thousand dollar notes, that were taken upon recommendation of Gilliam, the note of the oil company for $10,000 and the one of the elevator company for a like amount, are worthless, which makes matters look worse today than at any time since the trouble. It is now doubtful if the twenty men who were talking of organizing, to take the bank, can get together.

The men who were trying to get the matter straightened out were to meet again this afternoon when some action will probably be taken.

Upon the face of things, if this company is not organized the bank will pay out about 60 per cent.

That figure is arrived at by some of the business men by taking the assets of the bank, $101,000 and, subtracting the three bad notes, $35,000, which will leave $66,000, from which, men who have handled notes and paper such as are usually found in banks say that about ten per cent, or six thousand dollars should be subtracted for bad notes, which leaves $60,000 as the actual assets. There being $88,000, of liabilities, it would be safe to say that from 60 to 65 per cent. would be a fair estimate.

Indian Signs with Rushville.

Junius S. Mitchell, known as Short Bull, who has been playing for several seasons with the Nebraska Indians has quit the team owing to some financial troubles with the manager and has signed with Rushville. Short Bull is an all round ball player. His positions are frequently those of catcher and second baseman. He is a hard hitter, can run like a deer, and is a great base stealer. He played in center field with the Rushville team at Greensburg this afternoon. Short Bull will play three games with the local team here and if his work is satisfactory he will remain here the rest of the season.

A Compliment To Watson.

The New Castle Courier in speaking of the services in that city Sunday highly compliments the address of Hon. Jas. E. Watson of this city. It says:

"The address of the occasion was delivered by Brother James E. Watson, past grand chancellor commander, of Rushville. Mr. Watson was at his best, his thought was supreme and sentiment beautiful. He held the immense congregation spellbound. Not a word was missed by any one so close was the attention to Mr. Watson's address."

ROBBED AN OLD COUPLE

Vandals get in Their Work on Respectively Old Couple.

A crime of the lowest type occurring near the Rush county line is related by the Shelbyville Democrat as follows:

"Just east of the Thos. A. Cotton farm near the Rush county line reside a very peaceful old couple, Jacob Derringer an wife—familiarly known as Jake and Ann. They have not been exceedingly blest with the world's goods, and nature has denied them the gift of one of her senses—that of hearing. In the spring the neighbors met and kindly broke their little garden plot and planted it for them. On Tuesday night the same kind spirit made them give the worthy old couple a "pound party." The night succeeding their humble log cabin was entered and all the neighbors' offerings were stolen; the dishes were scattered over the floor and what seemed most malicious about the "enterprise," the ashes in the stove were well mixed with powder, and the next morning the old gentleman had a narrow escape when he went to light the fire, the powder exploding. Entrance was effected by removing the upper half of the window. This was carried so far that it was not found until quite a search had been made.

A rifle was taken which was prized as an heirloom. These out breaks, or rather inbreaks, have been occurring with a periodical frequency that has become alarming. The last being about the fifth. There is a strong hint among the neighbors of offering a reward for the apprehension of the vandals."

No base ball game at Spring Lake park, near Greenfield, has ever been postponed on account of rain. In all the five years of baseball there, the management have never been forced to cancel a game because of bad weather.

THE OPENING CAMPAIGN GUN

Former Secretary Root's Masterful Address at National Convention.

Many Reasons are Given Why the Republican Party Should Be Continued in Power.

Chicago, June 21.—At noon today Hon. Henry C. Payne, chairman of the national Republican committee, called the convention to order. The Coliseum, Chicago's greatest place of public assemblage, was crowded when the hour for convening arrived, but it was remarked by old convention habitués that the air of interest and of suppressed excitement marking former gatherings of this body was almost wholly lacking. The very evident "cut-and-dried" character of the convention is the cause of this. The delegates know just what is before them, just what is to be done and how it is to be accomplished, consequently the personal element, the individual interest, is missing. The feeling very generally present that the work of the convention is of a purely perfunctory sort excludes the thrill that is wont to pervade the atmosphere at such gatherings of the representatives of a great political party. When the leaders reached Chicago a few days ago they found nothing for them to do. The program for the convention was mapped out weeks ago and there was a full realization that it was unalterable. Thus interest in the work in hand is only of the subdued sort.

Upon opening the convention Chairman Payne introduced the Rev. Timothy P. Frost, who invoked Divine guidance in the deliberations of the convention. Secretary Elmer Dover then read the formal call for the convention and called the roll of the states. Temporary Chairman Elihu Root was then introduced and he addressed the convention. In opening his address Chairman Root said: "The responsibility of government rests upon the Republican party. The complicated machinery through which the 80,000,000 people of the United States govern themselves, answers to no single will. The composite government devised by the framers of the constitution to meet the conditions of national life more than a century ago, requires the willing co-operation of many minds, the combination of many independent factors, in every forward step for the general welfare. "When the course of the next administration is but half done the Republican party will have completed the first half century of its national life. Of the eleven administrations since the can control.

"With the platform and the candidates of this convention we are about to ask a renewed expression of popular confidence in the Republican party. We shall ask it because the principles to which we declare our adherence are right, and the best interests of our country require that they should be followed in its government. We shall ask it because the unbroken record of the Republican party in the past is an assurance of the sincerity of our declarations and the fidelity with which we shall give them effect. Because we have been constant in principle, loyal to our beliefs and faithful to our promises, we are entitled to be believed and trusted now. We shall ask it because the character of the party gives assurance of good government. We shall ask the continued confidence of the people because the candidates whom we present are of proved competency and patriotism, fitted to fill the offices for which they are nominated, to the credit and honor of our country. We shall ask it because the present policies of our government are beneficial and not to be set aside; and the people's business is being well done, and ought not to be interfered with."

Following the address of the chairman the names of temporary officials were read and the committees on permanent organization, credentials, rules and resolutions were appointed.

INTERESTING PRECEDENT

Senator Fairbanks' Attitude Paving the Way for Four Years Hence.

Chicago, June 21.—There is some dealing in futures in the vice presidential game. Senator Fairbanks' friends are of the opinion that if he expressed either a desire for the nomination or a disinclination to accept the place, such action would be used against him four years hence if he should be a candidate for the presidency. By pursuing the course he has and accepting a party call they think he has obligated the party to him. Had he been an aspirant for the place they argue that the obligation would be the other way. In trying to "smoke out" Senator Fairbanks, it is claimed that the party leaders who have been active with the names of other men, wanted to make it plain that no obligation was created by naming Fairbanks for the place. While this is all very remote from the present situation it is regarded as showing that the conditions surrounding the selection of Mr. Roosevelt for vice president four years ago are still fresh in the minds of Republican politicians. At the same time they do not agree that a precedent was created four years ago or will be created by nominating Mr. Fairbanks at this convention.

Complimentary ballots will be cast for many favorite sons, although it is known that the Indiana senator will be nominated. Colorado will vote for John W. Springer; Illinois for Robert R. Hitt; Missouri for Cyrus P. Walbridge; Nebraska for John L. Webster, and Wisconsin for ex-Governor Edward Scofield. No doubt before the ballot is completed all these states will change and cast their votes for Senator Fairbanks, making the nomination unanimous.

Indiana, acting upon the wishes of the senator, will not present his name, but it is expected that other states are ready to do so. Possibly the nomination will come from Alabama, the first state on the roll.

The Indiana delegation held a meeting in Governor Durbin's room, when the vice presidential nomination of Senator Fairbanks was discussed. After adjournment it was stated that they were just where they were before and were without definite plans. At the same time it was said that the attitude of the delegation was that Indiana would be pleased to have Senator Fairbanks receive the nomination. A motion declaring that to be the sense of the delegation was made, but Senator Fairbanks said that was stronger than he desired, and the motion was withdrawn. Members of the delegation differed as to the position the state should take in view of this development, but individually several said they would like to have the senator nominated and the state would appreciate the honor.

League of Republican Clubs.

Chicago, June 21.—The executive committee of the League of Republican clubs has decided to have the next meeting of the league at Indianapolis Oct. 5 and 6.

Between 1896 and 1903 the United States decreased the number of commercial failures from 15,088, with liabilities of $226,000,000 to 12,069, with liabilities of $155,000,000, a decrease of 2,019 in number, and $71,000,000 in liabilities.

The Republican still leads—others follow.

An agent of the Chicago Inter Ocean was in the city yesterday taking subscriptions for that paper as a "substitute" for the Journal.

Does Landis' declaration that he is opposed to seeking two offices at the same time mean that he is for Durbin for senator? Durbin is the only man who has been mentioned as Fairbanks' successor who is not a candidate at the coming election.

The staff correspondent of the Star and Journal says that there is some doubt as to whether or not Hemenway will ask for the senatorship if a vacancy occurs. If this is true let us start a boom for Congressman Watson at once.

Gilliam the absconding president of several banks had one good trait in his character and that is, that he endeavored to treat all his friends alike. One account of Gilliam says that he always wanted to be a prominent man. Then why didn't he stay to enjoy his prominence.

Indianapolis now comes to the front with a new way to enforce ordinances. The ordinance prohibiting the playing of baseball in the parks on Sunday was repealed and a new one passed, legalizing it, and the reason given for the movement is that the old ordinance was "violated constantly."

To Cut Down Expenses.

Philadelphia, June 21.—At a conference between President A. J. Cassatt and Assistant Comptroller Max Riebenack of the Pennsylvania railroad, on the subject of reducing the clerical force in the general offices of the company in this city, it was decided that economies are to be accomplished by putting several hundred clerks on furlough, and by requiring those retained in the service to take vacations without pay.

While the production of beet sugar has decreased about 13 per cent. during the last two years, or from 6,760,000 metric tons to 5,900,000 metric tons, that of cane sugar has increased during the same period from 4,063,000 metric tons to 4,487,800 metric tons, or about 9 1/2 per cent.

A NEW STATE ORGAN

Republican Leaders Start Movement Looking to Such a Creation.

Indianapolis, June 21.—Further details of the movement among Indiana Republican leaders looking to the creation of a state organ to fill the place so long occupied by the late lamented Journal are leaking out. Dissatisfaction is expressed throughout the entire state with the present so-called organ of the Republicans and party leaders who have money or who can enlist capital in the enterprise are extremely desirous of establishing a paper that will more nearly represent the party since the demise of the Journal. A conference of leaders was held recently at the Columbia club, at which plans for a new organ were discussed by leading Republicans. George Hitt, formerly business manager of the Journal, was called in consultation, and it is reported that Mr. Hitt, when asked as to the feasibility of the plan, said such a paper could be started on a capital of $500,000 and placed on a paying basis. When seen regarding the matter Mr. Hitt declined to discuss the project, saying he did not wish to be quoted in any manner in connection with the proposed establishment of a new party organ. Mr. Hitt did not say that no consultation had been held, simply declining to say anything for publication in regard to the matter. It is understood that the men who are backing the movement for a new organ have ample capital and it is believed that the Republicans of Indiana will have a more satisfactory organ before the campaign opens in earnest next fall.

Word from Chicago has it that the failure of the Indiana delegation to take any action on the vice presidency was not a surprise to the politicians as a rule, although the report had been widely circulated that certain action of some sort would be taken. The delegation has all along understood the attitude of the senator that he is not seeking the nomination, and the feeling prevailed that under the circumstances the delegation had best refrain from any action whatever. In some quarters there has been a disposition to criticize the senator for remaining silent, but his own state understands his attitude and insists that it has been consistent throughout. The Indiana delegation continues to tell all inquirers that he is not now nor never has been a candidate for the vice presidency, and that if the convention should nominate him and he accepts, his action in accepting will be inspired wholly by a feeling that it is his duty to answer the party's call.

Indiana has fared first rate in the assignment of places in the big Chicago convention. The third assistant sergeant-at-arms is Eugene F. Cummings. The assistant sergeant-at-arms in charge of the national committee rooms is Ed P. Thayer of Greenfield, the assistant sergeant-at-arms in charge of the press is Col. Harry B. Smith of Indianapolis, and Indiana men are found doing clerical work everywhere. In fact, there is a loud roar from some of the other states because Indiana has fared so well, but all agree that Indiana is entitled to all it can get, and it generally gets what it wants.

Of all the states Indiana has the prettiest and coziest headquarters at the Chicago convention, and the manner in which it is fitted up excites the admiration of all visitors. The door knobs are electric light bulbs and over the door is a cluster of forty electric lights that spell out the word "Indiana." The room is festooned with the national colors and on the walls are the portraits of President Roosevelt, Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, Governor Durbin, Benjamin Harrison and J. Frank Hanly. In the center of the room is a large table covered by the American flag.

The complete organization of the Indiana delegation to the Chicago convention was effected as follows: Chairman, Senator Fairbanks; member of committee on resolutions, Senator Beveridge; vice president of convention, Isaac Strouse of Ligonier; committee on rules and order, Cary E. Cowgill of Wabash; credentials, Governor Durbin; committee to notify president, W. R. McKeen, Terre Haute; committee to notify vice president, Joseph Hudspeth, Boonville. The committee unanimously elected Col. Harry New national committeeman.

An interesting rumor to the Democratic politicians here today was that Lon Mull of Rush county, formerly a well-known member of the legislature, has decided to become a candidate for nomination for state treasurer.

Mr. Hitt Improving.

Washington, June 21.—Congressman Hitt, who has been ill for some days, continues to improve and is able to sit up for some time. Following the advice of his physicians, Mr. Hitt will remain quietly in Washington and has abandoned his intention of attending the Republican convention at Chicago.

Secures Deserved Damages.

Sullivan, Ind., June 21.—Miss Erline Sinclair, who was ducked in an icy pond by her pupils last winter because she would not state what she was going to give as a "treat" on Christmas, has been awarded $200 damages by a jury.

Took a Desperate Chance.

New York, June 21.—Philip Krantz, an engineer, jumped from Brooklyn bridge and escaped unharmed. Krantz is under arrest charged with attempted suicide, but denies that he had any intention of taking his life.

SHAW ON PRICES

Keynote Speech at Meeting of Roosevelt Workingmen's Club.

HIGH PRICES DUE TO HIGH WAGES

Whole Bring Better Food and Better Clothes—Better That All Should Work With High Prices Than That Few Should Labor With Prices Low.

At Wilmington, Del., on June 6th Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw addressed a meeting of the Roosevelt Workingmen's Club of Delaware, which marked the opening of the campaign in that state. Secretary Shaw said in part:

"The Republican party is not a party of sympathy, but of encouragement. Instead of posing as a benevolent institution, it represents policies which reduce the occasion for almsgiving to the minimum. Its bounty is opportunity."

"The Democratic party, on the contrary, never fails to express sympathy for the overburdened; but its policies, when put in operation, never fail to produce conditions which invite sympathy. When the products of labor find ready sale, and labor finds correspondingly ready employment, then our opponents are loudest in their protestations of sympathy for the overtaxed and overburdened people. They never congratulate; they always sympathize. They never rejoice, they always bemoan. They seldom cheer except at the prospect of something worse."

"I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but I venture the opinion that at least a half of the opposition's argument during the coming campaign will be directed against alleged unreasonable living expenses. You will be told that the price of meat is exorbitant; that the price of bread is unreasonable; in short, that the price of everything you buy has been unduly advanced, and all because of Republican policies and Republican legislation."

An Economic Theory.

"I am confident, however, that before the campaign proceeds very far there will be furnished from the highest possible authority in the United States well-authenticated data showing that the average of wages has increased in larger proportion than the average articles of ordinary household consumption. But of this I do not care to speak at this time. My present purpose will be served by showing that universal and constant employment at reasonable wages, even in the face of high-priced living expenses, is preferable to employment for only a portion of our people, though at the same wage and at much reduced living expenses. Catch the thought? Employment for all our people at a given wage, with living expenses high, is preferable to employment for only one half our people with living expenses however cheap."

"This country has never seen, and never will see, suffering at a time when labor finds ready and constant employment, whatever the price of food and clothes. And the converse of this is also true. This country always has been and always will be filled with suffering whenever labor falls of employment, however cheap may be food and clothes."

Phil Armour's Wisdom.

"I think I can demonstrate either one or both of these two propositions. I can show that the happiness of the wage-earner is dependent upon high-priced farm products, and I can also demonstrate that the prosperity of the farmer is dependent upon the ready and constant employment of the wage-earner. In other words, it is easily demonstrated that the prosperity of the artisan and farmer is interdependent."

"Phil Armour once said to me: 'I got rich when comparatively a young man by watching the coal and iron miners. Whenever they were employed I packed every ham I could get my hands on. My partner would say: 'Phil, you will break us up.' I would answer: 'No, they are working, now.' But when I saw the coal and iron workers quit I sold every ham we had.'"

"The farmers of my state understand this fully. It has been taught in every schoolhouse, in tent meetings in all groves, and from the platforms of all towns, and as a result more farmers came to our recent Republican state convention than ever before, and every one of them came determined that the American wage-earner should be employed. In other words, the Iowa farmer went to Des Moines on May 18, 1904, to protect his market. When wage-earners understand this interdependence as thoroughly as the Iowa farmers understand it, they, too, will go to Republican conventions to protect their market."

Market of the Wage-Earner.

"And what is the market of the American wage-earner? It is the American consumer—artisan, farmer, freight handler, business man and capitalist. The Republican party insists that the American producer, to the limit of his ability, shall supply the needs of the American consumer. The Democratic party seems to think it of no consequence who produces that which we consume, provided it is cheap. The Republican party insists that it is measurably unimportant what price we pay so long as we pay the price to ourselves."

"Higher wages mean more and better food for the wage-earner, more and better clothes for his family, a better roof for the home, and therefore a dorsed as one of the measures to be put forward by the legislative committee, and was introduced at the next session of the legislature. It was defeated, as was its fate at the next session. By 1897, however, there was a sentiment in its favor, and it passed without as much opposition as had been anticipated.

Law Has Been a Benefit.

All the opposition, however, did not come from without the ranks of organized labor, there being some decided sentiment against it from a very few members of certain trades who were fearful the effect the anti-child labor section might have on their trades. This did not result, and in recent years these opponents have become the most insistent on this class of legislation.

That the law has proved a beneficent measure, and though in no manner perfect, has sustained the claims of its advocates, the yearly reports of the inspector bear witness. And with the small force at its disposal few states show as good, and none better results than those achieved by the Indian department.

This is accounted for in part by the fact that politics has played but a small part in the affairs of the department, and also to the fact that the organized labor movement has at all times kept in close touch with its affairs.

A THOUSAND LIVES

Will Probably Be the Awful Record of the Slocum Disaster.

New York, June 21.—The list of those who perished on the General Slocum is growing at an alarming rate. Bodies continue to come to the surface off the shores of North Brother island. Every passing steamer seemed to churn up the water to such a degree that its wash one or more bodies would be swept onto the beach. Yesterday ninety-three additional bodies were recovered. This brings the total number of bodies recovered up to 725, and yet there are something like 300 persons unaccounted for. A number of these are among the unidentified at the morgue and over on North Brother island, and the "unrecognizable" that have been buried in the Lutheran cemetery on Long Island.

The coroner's inquiry into the disaster has begun. Thousands of persons gathered in and around the armory in the borough of the Bronx, where the inquest was held. Among those examined were Frank A. Barnaby, president of the Knickerbocker Steamboat company; James H. Atkinson, secretary of the company; Mate Flanagan of the Slocum and several members of the crew.

Check in Negotiations.

Tangier, June 21.—It has developed that apparently there is another hitch in the negotiations looking to the release of Perdicaris and Varley, the authorities at the British consulate expressing the opinion that Saturday would probably be the date for the release of the prisoners. It appears that Raisuli suggested to Mohammed el Torres, late representative of the sultan of Morocco, that the exchange of prisoners be made through Zela, governor of the Beni M'Sara tribe. Zela refused Raisuli's proposition to take the exchange away from the Beni Arros tribe, which seems to indicate fear of his own followers. Eight of Raisuli's men who were imprisoned at Tetuan, have arrived here.

Oysters abound in the Inland Sea of Japan. They are served in the restaurant for 5 cents a dozen.

STATE NEWS

Indianapolis, June 21.—Judge Anderson in the federal court has overruled the demurrer of James M. Fowler and others to the complaint brought against them by Ophelia Fowler Duhme. Mrs. Duhme in her complaint alleges that James Fowler, who was the administrator of the estate of his mother, Eliza Fowler, misappropriated the funds of the estate. The demurrers to the defendant stated that the federal court had no jurisdiction of the Tippecanoe circuit court. The action on the demurrers will bring the case into the federal court for trial, but it will probably not be reached until next fall.

A MEANS TO THE END

Electrical Engineer Devises Novel Plan for Suicide.

Crawfordsville, Ind., June 21.—Charles Kaller, who was graduated from Purdue university two weeks ago and who took employment immediately with the Northwestern Traction company as electrician, committed suicide at the sub-station four miles east of Crawfordsville.

The deed was planned with cold-blooded deliberation. The young man stripped himself of clothes, lay down on a cross-cut saw, wrapped one end of a feed wire about one wrist and then with a pair of pliers took hold of the live wire. Except for the perfect connection he made the current would not have been strong enough to kill him. It was several hours before his body was found.

Kaller came from Naperville, Ill., and was one of the most brilliant men in this year's graduating class at Purdue, being a member of the Tau Beta Pi honorary society. It is supposed that the strenuous final examinations, being immediately followed by the solitude of his life at the sub-station, unbalanced his mind.

Search Not Given Up.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 21.—The search for six-year-old Richmond Byers of Seelyville continues, but there is not even a good clue upon which to work. While the majority of the people of this city, including many of the officers of the law, believe the child is dead and that his body will be found somewhere, Dr. Byers prefers to think he has been stolen and with this idea always in mind is working day and night to find his boy.

Foltz Found Guilty.

Auburn, Ind., June 21.—Frank Foltz was found guilty by a jury here of manslaughter for the killing of Edward Swigert. On the night of Feb. 5 several boys were passing his house and uttered taunting remarks. He seized a gun and fired, striking Swigert, who was passing along the street, killing him instantly. Foltz has been married since he was placed in jail.

Will Be Tried In Ohio.

Union City, Ind., June 21.—John Hendricks, arrested in this vicinity for horse stealing after a battle with a police posse, has been returned to Columbus, Ohio, for trial. There is an effort to show that he was connected with the Marvin Kuhns gang years ago and that he escaped at the time Kuhns was shot and captured in Tippecanoe county.

Sunday School Workers Gather.

Richmond, Ind., June 21.—The annual convention of the Indiana Sunday School association opened here today in the East Main Street Friends' church. About 2,000 visitors are present and of this number 1,597 are qualified delegates, representing every county Sunday school organization in the state.

Only a "Love Pat."

Princeton, Ind., June 21.—Miss Leonard North, who followed up a quarrel with her sweetheart, Frank Keizer, by emptying a revolver in his direction, one bullet wounding him in the leg, will probably not be prosecuted, as Keizer is convalescing and wants her at liberty.

Killed While Making Coupling.

Goshen, Ind., June 21.—C. L. Beigh, aged thirty-three, a brakeman on the Big Four, whose home is at Wabash, was killed here while making a coupling. His wife had just started on a trip to a seaside resort and she was summoned back before she reached the end of her journey.

Drowned in Mill Pond.

Brookville, Ind., June 21.—While bathing at the Hildebrand mill-pond in the village of Haymond, John Oswald, forty-one years old, was seized with cramps and drowned.

Murder and Robbery.

Charleston, W. Va., June 21.—John Smith, a well-to-do farmer of Eplin, Mason county, was murdered on a public highway near Fraziers Bottoms. Smith was on his way home with $500 in his pocket when held up, shot dead and robbed. A posse captured two men named Taylor and Comayne, one with Smith's pocketbook and the other his watch. The men were lodged in the Mason county jail.

Tragedy Over Money Matters.

New York, June 21.—After quarreling over money matters Samuel Merigola, forty-nine years of age, of Fair Grounds, L. I., killed his brother Thomas, fifty-two years old, with an ax, shot his niece, Mrs. Carman Pietra, in the thigh and arm, and attempted suicide by cutting his throat.

PLANS REVEALED

Japanese Tactics at Port Arthur No Longer In Mystery.

PUZZLED THE RUSSIANS

Muscovites Could Not Make Out the Design of Gen. Oku's Extraordinary Maneuvers.

These Are Now Clear In The Light of Latest Developments In That Direction.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—Under date of June 20 Vice Admiral Skrydloff sent the following message to the emperor: "The cruiser division has returned to Vladivostok without losing any men or sustaining any damage."

St. Petersburg, June 21.—The war office expects news of a fight with General Kuroki. It is expected that General Oku is pursuing General Stalberg.

Washington, June 21.—An explanation of the Japanese campaign on the Liao Tung peninsula, especially with reference to Port Arthur, is contained in an advice that has reached this city from a source believed to be absolutely reliable. The Japanese tactics which have so puzzled the Russians are intended to isolate Port Arthur, but do not contemplate an attack on the place by General Oku's army. The actual work of reducing Port Arthur will be confined to another Japanese army under command of General Nogi, which will be landed on the peninsula (and indeed may even be landed) at a point south of General Oku's position and considerably nearer Port Arthur. On the first of June no less than twenty-six transports had been gathered at one of the Japanese ports to embark this army, and it is probable that the vessels attacked by the Vladivostok squadron were of this number.

An Official Report.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—The emperor has received the following dispatch from General Kuropatkin: "The enemy in the direction of Salmatsz and Feng Wang Cheng have not only stopped, but have made a retrograde movement. They have evacuated several points toward the north of Feng Wang Cheng, which until recently they occupied. The movement of Japanese troops toward the Dalme defile has been stopped, but a rather important movement of the Japanese forces has been discovered in the direction of Sluyen and Hatching or Sluyen and Tashichiao."

Russia's Losses V-rified.

Mukden, June 21.—It is officially announced that the Russian loss at the battle of Vafangow was about seventeen officers and 519 men killed, 97 officers and 1,988 men wounded, and 12 officers and 797 men missing.

Bryan Speaks Out.

New York, June 21.—Cooper Union was crowded last night at the anti-Parker convention called by some of those who do not concur in the Parker instructions given at the New York state convention. William J. Bryan was the principal speaker, and when he appeared on the platform he was enthusiastically applauded. Before making his address he said he would not name his favorite candidate for president, but he made a savage attack on the "reorganizers" and vigorously opposed the nomination of Judge Alton B. Parker, who was held up as the candidate for the corporations and not of the people.

Cullom Scores Over Yates.

Chicago, June 21.—At a meeting of the Illinois delegation to the national convention Senator Shelby M. Cullom was elected chairman of the delegation over Governor Yates. C. H. Deere was elected vice president of the delegation. Graeme Stewart was named for member of the committee on credentials. Senator A. J. Hopkins was named for committee on resolutions and Frank O. Lowden was elected member of the national committee. Isaac Ellwood was named on the committee to notify the president. Vespasian Warner was appointed on the committee to notify the vice president.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

A probable shrinkage of two-thirds in the Roumanian crop is a new element of strength in the Chicago wheat pit.

Gen. Oku reports that after the battle of Taiten last Saturday, the Japanese buried 1,516 Russians who were dead on the battlefield.

There is not the slightest foundation for the current reports of serious rioting at Helsinki, Finland. The city is perfectly tranquil.

Hector Fuller, the Indianapolis News' war correspondent, captured by Russians at Port Arthur, has been released and sent back to Chee-Poo.

Two persons were killed, and seven others were injured, one fatally, by the partial collapse of a four-story brick building at Kansas City.

Shanghai advises that the Russian Vladivostok fleet of four cruisers entered Port Arthur harbor in a fog, outwitting the Japanese. The Russians destroyed ten transports during the trip, it is said.

It can be stated with definiteness that Representative Victor H. Mendenhall, of the third California district, will succeed Secretary George B. Corbillion as the head of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The Secretary of the Interior has approved the application of the board of trustees of the Columbian University, of Washington, to change the name of that institution to the George Washington University.

The south bound train on the Big Four, due here at 8:15 a. m., was about five hours late this morning, on account of the wreck on the road near Markleville.

A number of delegates to the Republican National convention at Chicago passed through here yesterday afternoon in a special car attached to the 2:30 train.

Charles S. Henry, of Indianapolis, came down today to inspect the work on the power house and road bed of the traction line. He was accompanied by another gentleman who is also interested in interurban work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tullar, who have been visiting Mrs. Tullar's father, George H. Havens, of North Main street, left this morning for St. Louis, where they will spend a few days at the World's Fair. They will return Saturday.

About thirty feet of the fire brick lining of the smoke stack at the power house is now complete. The massive engines in the interior of the house have been completed and are ready for steam. The place has been turned over to the electricians who are installing the different pieces of machinery.

A party composed of about twenty couples of Rushville young people are picnicking this evening at the fair grounds. The ladies in the party are mostly members of the Epicurian club and a bounteous supper will be prepared. The picnic is being given in honor of the Misses Coats, of Chicago, who are visiting in this city.

One hundred and seventy-one tickets were sold to Greensburg this afternoon for the special to that city. The train left here at 1:15 and was made up of three coaches and an engine. The cars were pretty well loaded, every seat being full and no doubt by the time it reached Greensburg the train was packed with people from Milroy, Sandusky and other points along the line.

A Much Tried Case.

Judge Morris has overruled a motion for a new trial in the divorce proceedings at Shelbyville of William P. Cummins against Gennetta E. Cummins. This case has gained prominence from the number of times it has been up, this being the nineteenth time. The case has been in the Marion, Hancock and Shelby county courts.

Moved All Its Buildings.

The Spiceland Canning company has just completed the task of moving its entire lot of buildings and machinery a distance of a quarter of a mile to another locality. The location was off the railroad, and L. E. & W. refused to build a siding. After efforts to get a siding failed, the company moved its entire plant to a location along the track.

Shops Resume Operation.

As was predicted by the officers of Gaar, Scott & Co., of Richmond, last week, when a large number of men were laid off, the shut down was only temporary. Yesterday morning the shops resumed full blast. Reports of the condition of the western wheat crop received during the past week were so favorable that the company felt justified in resuming operations with a full force of men.

Not in Any Bank.

SCORE DISPUTED

Reports this evening from the Greensburg game this afternoon say that five and one half innings were played between showers of rain. Up to the first half of the sixth the score was 1 to 0 in favor of Greensburg. At this juncture the play was stopped by another downpour of rain. The two teams wrangled over whether they should resume play again. Rushville being willing but Greensburg remaining obstinate. The rain subsided and the team played another half inning, in which Rushville scored three runs. Play was stopped, Greensburg refusing to play out the inning and the game was called off. It was decided by the umpire that the game belonged to Greensburg by a score of 1 to 0.

An argument last night between Jesse Guire and Robert Whalen resulted in a mix-up between the two in front of Miller's saloon in which neither was hurt. No one has yet been arrested.

Mrs. Lipp Returns to Kentucky With Her Child.

Mrs. Lipp, who was granted the custody of her child in this city yesterday by Judge Morris, has returned to Covington, and concerning her return the Commercial Tribune says: Happy to be once more in the possession of her darling little five-year-old daughter, Mrs. Lola Lipp returned to Covington last night from Rushville, Ind. There she obtained, through the process of law, the right to keep her child. Her husband, Lee Lipp, whom she is suing for divorce, tried to keep the little girl, Naomi, from the mother. Lipp stole the child some weeks ago and endeavored to keep his hiding place a secret, but the girl herself revealed their whereabouts to her mother. Changing his name to "Bob Johnson" and calling the girl "Emma," he tramped about Indiana until the foot-sore child told a kind-hearted woman the secret. Mrs. Lipp was informed and, accompanied by her attorney, A. E. Stricklett, Covington, went to Indiana to fight for her child. The habeas corpus suit was decided in her favor yesterday at Rushville by Judge Douglas Morris. Affidavits from Covington neighbors of the Lipp were extremely unfavorable to Lipp as a guardian for the child. It was alleged that he took the girl to saloons and gave her drink on frequent occasions.

A WONDERFUL INVENTION.

It is interesting to note that fortunes are frequently made by the invention of articles of minor importance. Many of the most popular devices are those designed to benefit the people and meet popular conditions, and one of the most interesting of these that has ever been invented is the Dr. White Electric Comb, patented Jan. 1, '99. These wonderful Combs positively cure dandruff, hair falling out, sick and nervous headaches, and when used with Dr. White's Electric Hair Brush are positively guaranteed to make straight hair curly in 25 days' time. Thousands of these electric combs have been sold in various cities of the Union, and the demand is constantly increasing. Our agents are rapidly becoming rich selling these combs. They positively sell on sight. Send for sample. Men's size 35c ladies 50c—(half while we are introducing them) The Dr. White Electric Comb Co., Decatur, Ill.

Luxury in Walking

Never mind what old fashioned people tell you;—Style and Comfort can live together in a pair of shoes! The "Dorothy Dodd" proves it.

They are the utmost height of style,
They are Shoes of Genuine distinction.

The highest praise you can give a shoe is to say—

"It has the style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

Yet the "Dorothy Dodd" is the most comfortable shoe ever made. You long to walk for the pleasure of walking. It holds the foot firmly around the instep and supports the unsupported arch. You escape the "slonchy" gait which comes with some shoes. It gives a new poise to your body in walking. Your carriage is more light and graceful. Just try one pair. Sincerely yours,
